Domain Names?

Domain names are characterized by their extensions (.com, .net, .org) with the most popular being the .com. Though merely a way of addressing your website the .com is the most widely recognised and therefore the most likely to be typed in on a search...

Search Engine Ready?

By carefully tailoring the readable text on your site (and a few other simple, but often overlooked, tweaks) your sites visibility through popular search engines can be radically improved. The more easily you're discovered the more potential customer exposure you receive!

CMS?

The 'Content Management System' (CMS) is a tailored computer program that lets you, the site owner, access and update your website details, images and products from your desktop. Created for ease of use give you more control without needing to contact us!
